

A WORLD PARLIAMENT

Governance and Democracy in the 21st Century

JO LEINEN
ANDREAS BUMMEL

*Second edition
expanded & updated*

A World Parliament
Governance and Democracy in the 21st Century
Jo Leinen and Andreas Bummel

© Democracy Without Borders, Berlin, 2024

*Second edition
expanded & updated*

The original English edition was published in 2018 and was translated from the German edition
Das demokratische Weltparlament, Verlag J.H.W. Dietz Nachf., 2017
by Ray Cunningham

Cover design by Hermann Brandner, Cologne

Please contact us if you are interested in acquiring foreign language or other rights to this publication

Paperback ISBN 978-3-942282-24-6
Hardcover ISBN 978-3-942282-26-0
Ebook ISBN 978-3-942282-25-3

Visit our website at www.democracywithoutborders.org

Contents

Introduction ..... 1

PART I

The idea of a world parliament: its history and pioneers..... 7

PART II

Governance and democracy in the 21st century ..... 177

PART III

Shaping the future: the design and realization of world democracy..... 474

Index of names ..... 533

Detailed Contents

Introduction..... 1

PART I

The idea of a world parliament: its history and pioneers..... 7

1. From ancient times to Kant: cosmopolitanism, sovereignty, and the idea of a social contract ..... 10
Cosmopolitanism in ancient Greece 10—Cosmopolitan roots in the Asian region 12—Cosmopolitanism in medieval Baghdad 15—Indigenous concepts in the Americas and Africa 16—Vitoria’s ‘republic of the whole world’ 18—Conceptions of peace under the ‘sovereign power of the state’ 20—The idea of the social contract in Hobbes and Locke 22—The social contract and Wolff’s ‘Völkerstaat’ 25—Kant’s cosmopolitan project 26
2. The 18th century: enlightenment, revolutions, and parliamentarism .... 29
The American federal state and representative democracy 29—The historical roots of modern parliamentarism 31—Cosmopolitanism in the French Revolution 33—Cloots’ ‘republic of humanity’ 34—The end of cosmopolitanism 35
3. From Vienna to The Hague: the dynamics of integration and the inter-parliamentary movement ..... 37
Independence, unification and division in Latin-America 37—Sartorius’ ‘peoples’ republic’ 38—Pecqueur’s concept of worldwide integration 38—Pecqueur’s world federation and world parliament 40—Tennyson’s ‘Parliament of Man’ 42—The long struggle to extend the right to vote 43—Parliamentarism and world federalism in Japan 44—The birth of the inter-parliamentary movement 44—A Constituent Assembly for a global Magna Charta 45—The establishment of the IPU 46—The Hague Peace Conferences as a catalyst 47—Internationalism in the USA 47—The ‘One World’ utopia of Kang Youwei 49—From division to union and from autocracy to democracy 50—Kang’s conception of a global ‘public parliament’ 52—The distant future 52—An initiative at the IPU 53—Arguments emerging out of the German peace movement 55
4. World War and the League of Nations ..... 58
The programme of the ‘Round Table’ group 58—The theory of sociocultural evolution and a world federation 59—A world parliament on the Versailles agenda 60—The ‘German Plan’ for the constitution of the League 62—Disappointment over the League of Nations 63

5. The Second World War and the atomic bomb: world federalism in the early years of the UN ..... 67
 Federalism under pressure from fascism 67—The growth of world federalism 68—Planning the post-war order 71—The Moscow Declaration 73—Fundamental criticism of the UN, and the shock of the atom bomb 74—Prominent support for a federal world order 75—Reves' critique of democracy, the nation state and sovereignty 76—Albert Einstein and Albert Camus as advocates 77—The position of the Catholic Church 78—The British initiative of November 1945 79—The issue of a Charter review conference 80—The foundation of the Council of Europe 82—Sohn's proposal for a parliamentary assembly at the UN 82—The Chicago draft of a world constitution 83—The Clark and Sohn model 85—CURE's deliberations and conclusions 86—Parliamentary cooperation for a world federation 87—Decolonization and world order 89—Attempts at postcolonial integration 90—Serial production of sovereignty 92—Support in Ghana 93

6. Bloc confrontation and the rise of the NGOs..... 95
 World federalism caught between the fronts in the Cold War 95—The federalist movement and the founding of NATO 96—Uniting for Peace 97—The declining popularity of world federalism and a world parliament 97—The World Order Models Project 99—The growing importance of NGOs 100—The idea of a 'second chamber' 101—The issue of weighted voting in the UN General Assembly 102—Bertrand's report 103—Perestroika and Gorbachev's initiative 104

7. The end of the Cold War: the democratization wave and the revitalization of the debate..... 107
 The democratization wave 107—The revitalization of the debate 108—A UN parliamentary assembly as a strategic concept 108—Support for a world parliament and a UNPA 110—The report by the Commission on Global Governance 113—The report by the World Commission on Culture and Development 114

8. Democracy in the era of globalization ..... 116
 Globalization and the nation state 116—The theory of 'cosmopolitan democracy' 118—The Falk and Strauss essays 121—A community of the democracies? 122—Höffe's federal world republic 124—The call for a WTO parliament and the role of the IPU 125—Other initiatives towards a world parliament and a UNPA 126—The 'political trilemma of the world economy' 130

9. The 'War on Terror', the role of the IPU, and the campaign for a UN Parliamentary Assembly..... 131
 The ban on landmines, the International Criminal Court and the World Social Forum 131—New contributions on the idea of a global parliament 132—The Lucknow conferences 133—9/11 and global democracy 134—The report by the German Bundestag's Enquete Commission 135—The report by the World Commission on the Social Dimension of Globalization 136—The Ubuntu Forum campaign 136—The Cardoso panel report 137—Growing support for a UNPA 140—The international campaign for a UNPA 144—Calls for a UNPA following the campaign's launch 146—The third World Conference of Speakers of Parliament 149—The European Parliament resolution of 2011 150—The de Zayas recommendations 152—Week of Action, Malta and Schwartzberg 154—The report by the Albright-Gambari Commission 156

10. Autocratization, the UN at 75, and the global polycrisis ..... 158

The election of Trump and autocratization 158—Democracy Without Borders 159—A low point of inter-parliamentarism 160—The IPU reviews its 'political project' at the UN 161—The Swiss government's report 164—Runup to the UN's 75th anniversary 165—Public consultations, COVID-19, and the UN75 declaration 168—The 'We The Peoples' campaign 170—Breakdown or breakthrough 171—Russia's attack on Ukraine and the global polycrisis 173

PART II

Governance and democracy in the 21st century ..... 177

11. The Anthropocene, planetary boundaries and the tragedy of the commons ..... 181

The era of humankind 181—Earth system boundaries 183—Carbon emissions and global warming 184—Planetary boundaries as a common concern 185—The problem of voluntarism 186—The 'tragedy of the commons' 189—The management of global common goods 191—The problem of the generations 192—Global majority decision-making 193—The tragedy of international law 196—Enforcement and its legitimacy 196

12. Overshoot, the 'Great Transformation', and a global eco-social market economy..... 199

Overshoot and ecological footprint 199—The end of the Utopia of growth 200—Prosperity, happiness and democracy 201—The challenge of global eco-social development 204—'Political barriers' as the main obstacle to transformation 204—The process of state formation and the rise of the market economy 206—The 'double movement' between market fundamentalism and state interventionism 207—A global eco-social market economy 208

13. Financial crises, countering global deregulation, and the hidden trillions ..... 210

The contemporary relevance of the 'double movement' and emancipation 210—Financial crises and national populism 211—Continuing systemic risk 212—State intervention to stabilize the financial system 214—The financial system as a

- 'priority global public good' 215—The anarchic system of international law 216—Liberalism, laissez-faire and the question of a world state 217—The global race to deregulate 218—Tax havens and anonymous shell companies 220—The hidden trillions 222—The role of a UN Parliamentary Assembly 223—Global state formation as the goal of the counter-movement 224
14. A world currency, global taxation, and fiscal federalism..... 226
 A world currency and a world central bank 226—External impact of monetary policy: the Triffin dilemma 227—Currency wars and global fragmentation 228—Building on the IMF's Special Drawing Rights 230—Embedding a world currency 232—The fiscal race to the bottom 233—A global minimum corporate tax rate 234—Unitary taxation of multinational corporations 236—A UN Tax Organization 237—Global fiscal federalism and the restitution of fiscal sovereignty 238—Further ideas and attempts for global taxes 239—A framework of institutional reform and democratization 243
15. World domestic policy, trans-sovereign problems, and complex interdependence..... 245
 'Trans-sovereign problems' 245—The concept of interdependence 246—Trans-governmental networks and the merging of domestic and foreign policy 247—The evolutionary phases of the international order 249—Sovereignty and the era of 'implosion' 251
16. The fragility of world civilization, existential risks and human evolution..... 253
 The potential for a worldwide collapse 253—Global catastrophic risks 254—The genome as the heritage of humanity 255—Gene-editing and reprognetics 255—Transhumanism 257—Artificial intelligence 258—Autonomous weapons 261—COVID-19, 'Disease X' and the pandemic threat 262—The WHO's weakness and the 'sovereignty problem' 264—The origin of SARS-CoV-2 267—The risk of 'gain of function' pathogen research 269—Synthetic pathogens and killer nanobots 271—Regulation under global law 272
17. The threat of nuclear weapons, disarmament, and collective security... 275
 Nuclear war as the end of all things 275—The danger of drifting into nuclear war 276—The risk of nuclear accidents 278—The unfulfilled commitment to general and complete disarmament 280—The architecture of nuclear disarmament 282—The link between nuclear and conventional disarmament 284—The McCloy-Zorin Accords 286—The unrealised peace concept of the UN Charter, and UN armed forces 287—The four pillars of a world peace order 290—The role of a world parliament 291

18. Terrorism, ‘blowback’, and surveillance ..... 293
 The terrorist threat and its impact 293—Blowback and ‘geopolitical black holes’ 295—Human rights abuses and drone warfare 297—Terrorism and the international system 298—Global surveillance and data protection 301
19. Global law enforcement, criminal prosecution, and the post-American era..... 304
 Global criminal law and a supranational police authority 304—The failure of classical sanctions 305—The International Criminal Court 306—Extending the prosecuting powers of the ICC 307—A supranational police force to support the ICC 309—Sovereignty and law enforcement 311—International criminal prosecution and a world parliament 312—Interpol and accountability 313—A world parliament as an element of world police law 315—The role and significance of the USA 316
20. Global food security and the political economy of hunger..... 320
 The extent of worldwide hunger and the right to adequate nutrition 320—Population growth and food production 322—The fragility of the global food supply 324—Hunger as a problem of political economy 326—The relevance of democracy and the international system 327—Agricultural subsidies, the WTO, and food security 329—Commodity markets and financial speculation 330—Food security as a global public good, and the failure of the G20 331—The FAO, a World Food Board, and global food reserves 333—Free trade, food security, and a world peace order 334—The Committee on World Food Security 336—The issue of multistakeholder governance 337—A world parliament and democratizing global food policy 339
21. Global water policy and governance..... 341
 The state of water supply 341—Water as a global common good 342—Water, peace and trade 343—The deficits in water governance and a world parliament 345
22. The elimination of poverty, and social security for all ..... 348
 Poverty as the key problem 348—The state of poverty and its multidimensional nature 348—The need for a new approach to development assistance 352—Economic growth is not enough 353—Social security as the foundation of a planetary social contract 354—A global basic income 355—Universal ownership of the global commons 358—The dream of a life free from economic compulsion 360
23. Global class formation, the ‘super class’, and global inequality ..... 361
 The emergence of global class conflict and a global middle class 361—The global precariat 364—The concept of the Multitude 365—The super-rich and global power structures 366—The transnational capitalist class 368—A transnational state apparatus 370—The interconnections between transnational corporations 371—

The need for a global antitrust authority 372—Global inequality and instability 374—Inequality as the cause of the financial crisis 376—The growth of capital investments and a global tax on capital 377—A new global social contract 379

24. The debate on world government, the age of entropy, and federalism..... 380
 The global elite and the question of a world government 380—The specter of a global Leviathan 383—Hierarchical order and complexity 386—Different types of hierarchies 386—The principle of subsidiarity 387—The fragmentation of global governance and of international law 388—Coherent world law and a world parliament 391—The bewildering world order and the ‘age of entropy’ 392—The entropic decline of world civilization? 393—World federalism as a means of reducing complexity 395—A world state as a taboo topic 395—The teetering paradigm of intergovernmentalism 396—The standard reactionary arguments 398
25. The third democratic transformation and the global democratic deficit..... 400
 The waves of democratization 400—A global democratic reversal? 401—Economic development and democracy 403—The post-industrial transformation in values 404—The issue of populism revisited 405—Democracy as a universal value 407—The right to democracy 410—A right to global democracy 411—The undermining of democracy by intergovernmentalism 413—The example of the Codex Commission 415—Fragmentation as a problem of democracy 416—The dilemma of scale 417—The concept of a chain of legitimation 418—Output legitimation 419—Accountability to the world’s citizens 420—Equality and representation in international law and world law 421—The historic beginnings of democracy 424—The third democratic transformation 426—International parliamentary institutions 427—Complementing representation 429
26. The development of a planetary consciousness, and a new global enlightenment..... 433
 War and socio-political evolution 434—The decline of violence 437—The development of reason, empathy, and morality 437—The origin of morality in group selection 440—In-group morality and humanity’s crisis of adolescence 442—Sociogenesis and psychogenesis 444—The widening circle of empathy 445—The transition to integral consciousness 447—Group narcissism and the Promethean gap 449—The problem of cultural lag 450—Global identity and the Other 452—A Global Truth and Reconciliation Commission 454—The ‘Overview Effect’ and a planetary worldview 455—Identity, demos, and state formation 458—The progressive attitude of the world population 461—Popular support for a world parliament 464—Global history and global citizenship education 466—‘Big History’ as a modern creation story 468—The continuation of the project of modernity 469—The new global enlightenment 473

PART III

Shaping the future: the design and realization of world democracy..... 474

27. Evolution and elements of a global parliamentary assembly ..... 476

The example of European integration 476—An engine for global transformation 478—
Growing remit and powers 479—A Common Assembly for global governance 482—Binding decision-making 483—Growing democratic legitimacy 484—Transnational groups and global political parties 488—The apportionment of seats 490

28. Outlines of a new world organization..... 495

Reflections on a world constitution 495—International law and world law compared 496—A bicameral world legislature 499—Representation in the state chamber 500—Legislation of world law 501—A global executive branch 503—
A world constitutional court and the judiciary 505

29. Conditions and drivers for the transformation..... 509

The structural conditions for institutional change 509—The challenge of autocratization revisited 510—Long-term value shifts, protests and the elites 513—
A cosmopolitan movement 515—The role of NGOs 518—A UNPA and global constitutionalization 520—Factors of change 522—Persistent preparation and readiness 522—The revolution from below 523—The revolution from above 524—
The fallacy of a global shock scenario 525—Anticipating and averting the horror
527—Climate-induced events 528—A democratic China 529—In the beginning 531

Index of names ..... 533